LIGHTHOUSE - Les Cailloux du Paradis

Sologne, Loire Valley, France

We are excited to feature the incredible wines of Les Cailloux du Paradis. From the humble, largely unknown region of Sologne, Claude & Etienne Courtois are producing some of the most fascinating, living wines.

When Claude Courtois bought the long-abandoned, chemically farmed vineyards of Les Cailloux du Paradis in 1991, he saw possibility in their thin, clay-flint soils. Over the next three decades, he transformed the site into a vibrant, self-sustaining landscape, weaving fruit trees, woodland, and prairie into the vineyard and redefining what viticulture in Sologne could look like.

Courtois also challenged local appellation norms, reviving the nearly forgotten Gascon grape and planting dozens of other unauthorized varieties. The results of this rebellious ampelographic experiment live on in the white and red Racines cuvées he continues to vinify. Since 2007, his son Etienne has added a suite of sought-after monovarietal wines, while his other son, Julien, produces his own acclaimed range at the neighboring estate.
