

The background of the entire image is a photograph of the interior of the Concourse Club. The ceiling is a prominent feature, with a large, illuminated logo that reads "Concourse Club" in a stylized, cursive font. The ceiling is made of wood panels and has several large, modern, metallic light fixtures hanging from it. The walls are also wood-paneled. In the foreground, there are people sitting at tables, and the overall atmosphere is warm and sophisticated.
